

Superior Producer

Curacao's signature deep wreck dive site.

NOTE: For safety reasons, this site is closed for diving when ships are docked.

She's not in the prettiest location and the entry can be challenging. BUT this is an excellent wreck site, resting at the bottom of a beautiful, dramatic reef. Explore the reef and a ton of marine life on your return journey and during your safety 'go'...

To get the most out of your dive: head directly down the drop-off where you'll discover the wreck of the 220ft cargo ship. Her hull rests in the sand at around 100ft / 30m.

She's been there since late 1977, so there's a ton of life on her and at least 2 dives-worth of exploring.

Shore-diving this site rather than boat diving significantly extends your dive time, giving you plenty of time to explore the lovely drop-off on your safety stop on your ascent.

NOTE: Penetration is NOT recommended due to the deterioration of the wreck and a Dive Guide is STRONGLY recommended.
